“ Art and I spent many hours rethinking/reworking the water treatment facility. The hard work was done by Art with not much support otherwise. Art and his year round snow tires on that tireless truck is a favorite of mine. Art loved his family and those little white ankle bitters, served his country, enjoyed coming to work and sharing his brand of humor with all. Even when he and some others were cruelly stuck in a freezing warehouse placing parts in manufacturing kits along with his arthritis, he found a way to smile and make the best of it - I guess much like some of his life. I retired in late 2012. Art is one of those folks I miss seeing.
