“ Other than her parents Joyce and Paul Jasper Williams (I grew up nextdoor,)..she was the mother I never had.

“ From the first day I met Brenda, she was always sweet and wonderful to me. Yes she had her tough side, but she never showed it toward me. I would go over and help her clean up around the house or drive her around to get errands done. She always preferred to have someone w her. She was w me when my brother passed and without her at that time I may have lost my mind b4 I even knew what what going on... I don't have a bad memory of her, which is weird because I have bad memories of everyone... She was a loving mother a caring friend and I know she is watching over all of her children as she hugs her parents and daughter, Fran! She is dancing n heaven with the twins she lost b4 they were born. She is in no pain and she is happy! Rest in heaven and watch over us Brenda, we could all use another beautiful angel. We love u and miss u.
