“ I was thinking a little while ago. I met this sweet baby and Miss Sassy Dawn ❤️ When I was younger than Charlie. He would come across the street and ask me in his sweet way if he could borrow movies. He wasn't old enough to be going out yet. He would talk to me and Faith and Kenny and Jay and Greg for a while. He'd come and play games with them some. He was an absolute angel to be around. He was always so respectful and just to hear him say his mothers name... you knew he had her on a pedestal. And I never saw him be anything but sweet and protective of his sister. He always spoke to me and gave me a hug when he saw me out somewhere. Our life's roads don't always go in the direction we think they will ,starting out. And we all veer off course from time to time. Charlie's heart, I believe, was always on his family. And maybe he didn't get to be everything for the ones he wanted to be there for but I believe he would have been if he could have. We love you sweet Charlie. God Bless Ms Dawn and Dawn Marie. We will certainly be praying for his entire family. I will always think of him with that sweet smile knocking on my door.

“ My heart and prayers go out to Mama Dawn and Dawn Marie, as well as Charlie's babies. We met when we were 15 years old and every Friday would go skating. He was my first love and first relationship for 5 years. Even though we traveled different roads, he was still near to my heart and our friendship remained after all the years. I have so many memories of us and I'm glad I have them. He was always the energy among us. Always making everyone laugh or smile. He had such talent with drawing. He had a variety of tastes for music. I'm glad I got to share part of my life with him and be apart of his life. He will be forever missed.
