“ I just received confirmation today of my friend David passing. We would go a time without being in touch but could always start off as though no time passed at all. A few weeks ago I felt his spirit and as though a reminder it had been too long since hearing his voice. I drove past his home and spirit told me he was no longer on this side. Speaking with a mutual friend today, the loss was confirmed. David will be missed. Memories of horse back riding, computer glitches, in depth soul conversations, challenging tears ending with laughter and a few shared shots of tequila. Thanks David for being a friend and the memories. Catch you on the other side.
