My memories of James go back quite a ways, to our old National Guard days, where we became best friends. Many happy memories of those days that we thought would never end as we double dated. It just does not seem possible for our younger years to have come and gone so swiftly. Our twenties years went swiftly by as we both got married and had families. I will miss you old friend. I am glad I had a chance to talk to you one more time. Your friend for now and forever, Sonny
