“ So very sorry to see this, but late, of the passing of Joyce Brown. She truly did walk to the beat of her own drummer! But I learned later in life, that if Joyce cared for you she let it known!! I'll always know that if I ever called her for any kind of help, she would try to help in whatever way she could. She called just to chat with me many times while I went through tough recovery times and I will forever have cherished memories of her kind actions! People don't call each other no where near enough to really know what's going on in their lives. I too, am guilty of this. Joyce's calls truly helped me in many ways ♡♡ GOD PLEASE BLESS JOYCE FOR THE GOOD QUALITIES SHE HAD AND SHE DESERVES A BREAK ON THOSE LACKING! 🙏 RIP, My Friend ♡♡ Shelly Calvert and "The Old Man!"

“ I have many happy memories of Joyce from the first day we met 40 years ago but if you knew Joyce then you know I can't share them. I will always smile when I hear her name and remember the good times. Thank you Joyce for always being you and being my friend. Rest in peace until we meet again.
