“ Hello all. My dad was Manuel. I apologize for removing his lovely obituary but I found out that scams were being made with an online website. They are stealing people's obituaries and posting them asking for money and that they want to give that money to the families. I find this absolutely disgusting as I know what we asked for and where we want donations to go. We want no money at all. Only those close to my family and I will get to see his real obituary. It will be put in a private online place where we can honor dad's memory. Again, I apologize but I think it's incredibly important to respect the ones that have passed on. -T.Crespo
